EXCELLENT FREE ONLINE RESOURCE for Deaf and Hard of Hearing High School and Post-Secondary Students:

<https://www.nationaldeafcenter.org/>

<https://www.nationaldeafcenter.org/covid-19-information> The National Deaf Center is offering a load of information for schools and universities who are transitioning their classes to online or remote learning and how to accommodate the various communication needs of Deaf or hard of hearing student.

National Deaf Center (What we mean when we say "deaf") The National Deaf Center is using the term deaf in an all-inclusive manner, to include people who may identify as deaf, deafblind, deaf-disabled, hard of hearing, late-deafened, and hearing impaired. NDC recognizes that for many individuals, identity is fluid and can change over time or with setting. NDC has chosen to use one term, deaf, with the goal of recognizing experiences that are shared by all members of our diverse communities while also honoring all of our differences.)

National Deaf Center (Who we are) As deaf people leave high school and prepare for college or careers, the National Deaf Center wants them to succeed. Our research shows that deaf people are not completing college degrees, getting jobs, or earning as much as hearing people. We're here to change that.

EXCELLENT Information for professionals, students and parents who child is planning or is currently attending any type of college, job training, or learning the skills for adult life. Offers tip sheets for accommodations for college/training, online courses for students and professionals, offers individual, community to university level consultation and support at no charge.
